DETAILED ACTION

1. Acknowledgment is made in the receipt of amendment B filed October 24, 2003.

Claim Objections

2. Claims 9, 10, 13, 14 and 15 are objected to because of the following informalities: the claims in question recite the limitation of “an electric motor” and “an output shaft”. However, each of the aforementioned claims depends upon either claim 1 or claim 4, which positively recite the mentioned limitations. Appropriate correction is required.

Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 102

3. The following is a quotation of the appropriate paragraphs of 35 U.S.C. 102 that form the basis for the rejections under this section made in this Office action:

A person shall be entitled to a patent unless –

(b) the invention was patented or described in a printed publication in this or a foreign country or in public use or on sale in this country, more than one year prior to the date of application for patent in the United States.

4. Claim 1 is rejected under 35 U.S.C. 102(b) as being anticipated by US 4,327,562 to Gottschalk.

Gottschalk discloses a joint for integrally rotatably connecting a rotating shaft to an output shaft of an electric motor, comprising: a cylindrical first transmission member 16 is mounted on the output shaft 14 of the electric motor 10; a cylindrical second transmission member 21 encloses the cylindrical first transmission member via a gap therebetween; a cylindrical elastic body 24 is interposed between the first transmission member and the second transmission member; flat faces are formed at an outer periphery of the cylindrical first transmission member 16 (see figure 3) and an inner periphery of the cylindrical second transmission member 21 so as to be in an opposed relation with each other.

Art Unit: 3683

Each transmission member of Gottschalk is interpreted as being cylindrical in the same sense that each transmission member of the instant invention is cylindrical.

Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 103

5. The following is a quotation of 35 U.S.C. 103(a) which forms the basis for all obviousness rejections set forth in this Office action:

(a) A patent may not be obtained though the invention is not identically disclosed or described as set forth in section 102 of this title, if the differences between the subject matter sought to be patented and the prior art are such that the subject matter as a whole would have been obvious at the time the invention was made to a person having ordinary skill in the art to which said subject matter pertains. Patentability shall not be negated by the manner in which the invention was made.

6. This application currently names joint inventors. In considering patentability of the claims under 35 U.S.C. 103(a), the examiner presumes that the subject matter of the various claims was commonly owned at the time any inventions covered therein were made absent any evidence to the contrary. Applicant is advised of the obligation under 37 CFR 1.56 to point out the inventor and invention dates of each claim that was not commonly owned at the time a later invention was made in order for the examiner to consider the applicability of 35 U.S.C. 103(c) and potential 35 U.S.C. 102(e), (f) or (g) prior art under 35 U.S.C. 103(a).

7. Claims 9 and 10 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 103(a) as being unpatentable over US 5,472,060 to Sano in view of Gottschalk.

Re-claims 9 and 10, Sano teaches a steering assist system for providing a steering assist by transmitting the rotation of an electric motor to a steering shaft via a worm shaft, wherein the output shaft of the motor and the worm shaft are interconnected via a joint; and wherein the worm shaft is supported in a manner biased towards a worm wheel. However, Sano fails to teach the specifics of the joint as claimed in claim 1.

Art Unit: 3683

Gottschalk teaches the specifics of the joint as rejected above. It would have been obvious to one of ordinary skill in the art to have provided the steering assist system of Sano with a flexible joint connection as taught by Gottschalk, thus reducing the transmission of shock from the steering system to the motor.

Allowable Subject Matter

8. Claims 4-6 are allowed.

9. The following is a statement of reasons for the indication of allowable subject matter: the prior art of record fails to anticipate or render obvious a joint having a first, second and third transmission member, wherein an elastic body is interposed between opposing flat faces formed on the outer periphery of the first transmission member and the inner periphery of the second member, and wherein a torque limiter is disposed between the second and third transmission members .

Response to Arguments

10. Applicant's arguments with respect to claims 1-17 have been considered but are moot in view of the new ground(s) of rejection.

Conclusion

11. The prior art made of record and not relied upon is considered pertinent to applicant's disclosure. Suzuki et al. teaches a steering assist having joint with opposing flat surfaces.

12. Applicant's amendment necessitated the new ground(s) of rejection presented in this Office action. Accordingly, THIS ACTION IS MADE FINAL. See MPEP § 706.07(a). Applicant is reminded of the extension of time policy as set forth in 37 CFR 1.136(a).

Art Unit: 3683

A shortened statutory period for reply to this final action is set to expire THREE MONTHS from the mailing date of this action. In the event a first reply is filed within TWO MONTHS of the mailing date of this final action and the advisory action is not mailed until after the end of the THREE-MONTH shortened statutory period, then the shortened statutory period will expire on the date the advisory action is mailed, and any extension fee pursuant to 37 CFR 1.136(a) will be calculated from the mailing date of the advisory action. In no event, however, will the statutory period for reply expire later than SIX MONTHS from the date of this final action.
